FAU Teacher Education International

Celebrating Diversity and Promoting Inclusion

29th November 2021 – 4th December 2021

The International Week 2021 will take place from November 29th to December 4th (virtually) at FAU as part of the "FAU Teacher Education International" project with the objective of promoting internationalization in the teaching profession at FAU. In particular, the aim is to make existing resources for internationalization at home visible. Students and lecturers from FAU and partner universities from abroad learn more about different school systems and teacher education systems, get opportunities to network and share knowledge and best practices in teaching, participate in seminars, guest lectures and workshops. Partner universities from abroad introduce themselves and students and teachers can get information about opportunities for international mobility. The international week intends to encourage, to advise and to prepare students and faculty exchanges. In addition, there is the possibility of further developing the internationalization concept in the teaching profession with broader participation of FAU members.

The implementation is coordinated by the steering group of the project "FAU Teacher Education International". Prof. Dr. Anatoli Rakhkochkine and Maren Hanneken are available as contact persons for questions and suggestions: zfl-lehramt-international@fau.de. The International Week in Teacher Education at FAU takes place within the framework of the project "FAU Teacher Education International". The project is supported by the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD) with funds from the Federal Ministry of Education and Research (BMBF).

This year's international week will consist of a mix of hybrid / attendance offerings and online offerings. There will also be an exhibition in Erlangen and Nuremberg.
